

Chairman Phil W congratulates our speaker for the evening—exchange student Caroline Wilhjelm

NEWS FROM DAMIEN

Hey everyone! I just thought that I would give you all an update on what I've been up to:

So I have been back at school for a few weeks now and not a lot has really happened in relation with that, I'm still in the same classes and things so yeah. On Wednesday I met with my parents in Copenhagen in Denmark. We've been here 4 nights and tomorrow we are going to do a little more traveling around Denmark for a couple more days and then I'm going to take them to see where I live in Flensburg. After Flensburg we are going to go to Hamburg which is a lot bigger, there we will do some touristy stuff and then we are off to meet Pia's (the German exchange student who will be staying at our house after my parents get back) parents in Stade. So we have a busy two weeks planned out. After a couple days in Copenhagen I have fallen in love with it, it's a really nice city with a lot of cool stuff to see and do. On Friday we went to Roskilde to see Jessie who is another Aussie outbound from our district back home which was really good. She showed us around Roskilde and we caught up. On Saturday she came to Copenhagen with a friend so that we could hang out while my parents went to Sweden. While we were in the city we met up with some of the other exchange students (most of which were from Brazil). All up there were around ten of us which was really nice. It was really funny because with the other exchange students there was a girl who I had met once before at the going away party of another exchange student and I had also seen her around school but never really talked to her, I found out that she had been on exchange to Brazil and that she was hanging out with these exchange students because she lived in the same town as one of them. Two on Thursday I also ran into another German friend of mine whilst on a bike tour with my parents! It's a small world... I'll send another email and some more photos when I get back after traveling with my parents. Hope all is well back home.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

It was 6.30 a.m. on Thursday morning when I headed off to Rowville-Lysterfield's Business Breakfast. By 7.00 a.m. 150 attendees were sitting down to a full English breakfast. John Sylvester, of Underbelly fame, was the guest speaker.

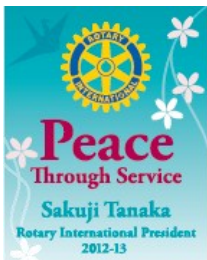

In addition to writing the Underbelly series (a full set of which he donated for auction at the breakfast), John was a crime writer with the Melbourne Age. He gave a somewhat humorous insight into Melbourne's gangland murders. Carl Lewis and the Moran's were portrayed as 'not the sharpest tools in the shed'. His presentation style ensured he had the complete attention of the attendees.

As the breakfast was a fundraiser for Rowville significant donations of $1500 each were made to Evolve and the Children's Protection Society. The last (and autographed) set of Underbelly books were auctioned (Paul Wilson nearly had the winning bid!). Eventually however they went for $550.

Our Sausage Sizzle at Masters has given us some much needed funds. The amount raised was not up to that which we normally make from Bunnings, but it amounted to $700.00 that we wouldn't otherwise have. Thanks go to those who helped out on the day, namely Exchange students Caroline and Kate, Nicole McFarlane, Fran Mandergheddes, Rob Dawson, and last (but most important!), John Flemming.

Next weekend we will be raising funds for the CFA. Saturday and Sunday will require a significant effort from members of our club. In the past we have raised some impressive amounts of money. Let's keep up the good work. I'm sure Fran will be pleased for any amount of time members are able to give. A project of this size requires the support of the whole club. I again ask that all members consider their time and availability.

Looking forward to seeing you all on Monday.

Graeme Aspinall
President

NEW GENERATIONS NIGHT

Our current in-bound student CAROLINE WILHJELM was well supported in making her club presentation. Chairman of the Youth Exchange Committee brought Manningham's student, Stephanie; Stuart McDonald also of the YE Committee came; and Terri & Terry Draper brought our outgoing student Kate Campbell. Well worth the effort; despite being very unwell Caroline gave us an excellent insight into herself, her family and her home country, Denmark.

President Graeme presented Caroline with this year's theme badge to be attached to her blazer.

Kate is presented with her blazer and a theme badge.

While Stephanie looks on—looks like she's well along the way with her collection of badges!
