CHRISTINE'S CHATTERBOX

Thank you to the members who attended our Cluster Volunteers evening on Tuesday. What a great night, great guest speakers and what a vibrant atmosphere in the room. The presidents of all the Knox Cluster, Russell Gurney and our AG Michele Oscar and myself thought it was a roaring success. A great model for other clusters in our District to use and build on.

We met some wonderful potential volunteers and great partnerships that could develop and really benefit our club. So again a huge thank you to all that took your time to talk to so many guests about our Rotary story.

Our next clubs opportunity to shine in our local community will be the Fern Tree Gully festival on Saturday 26th November. This will be a great fun day. More details on Monday Night.

Monday night is our committee meeting evening looking forward to another "Buzz" meeting where we can plan our future events. We have created a vibrant club thanks to all of your enthusiasm.

Looking forward to seeing you all Monday

Enjoy your week, and the lovely hot days

Yours in Rotary

Run by the Knox Cluster (with some very welcome help from District 9810) this event was a "showcase" for other clusters in the District. What a terrific evening! 55 people attended. Speakers Dr Bruce Wells and Bianca Lobo hit just the right note to tweak the interest of the audience.

Here's hoping all the clubs attract some new members from this really well run event.

Well done everyone!

Area of expertise

Iconic Australian Musician

Mike Brady AM (born Michael Brady; 28 February 1948) is an Australian musician most commonly associated with the Australian Rules football anthems "Up There Cazaly", referring to 1920s and 1930s St Kilda player Roy Cazaly and "One Day in September" about Grand Final day in Melbourne. "Up There Cazaly" topped the Australian singles charts in September 1979 and briefly held the record as best-selling Australian single.

Born in England he migrated to Australia in the 1950s with his family. He started performing when he was 15 and he was one-third of the 1960s pop act MPD Ltd. (which stood for Mike, Pete and Danny) which had several hits in Australia. He toured Australia, the U.K. and Vietnam

Brady had established recording studios in Melbourne, Australia where the international hit song "Shaddap Your Face" was recorded by Joe Dolce.

Since then Brady has continued to work in advertising, writing jingles such as "Dodo, Dodo, internet that flies" and "Lucky you're with AAMI".

He has written songs for popular Australian artists such as John Farnham and Tina Arena and produced albums by Arena and Colleen Hewett. He also wrote the song "Courage in their Eyes" for the Seven Network's Olympics coverage.

In addition to his jingle writing and performing, Brady also works at Melbourne radio station, 3AW.

Brady is also the chairman of Elite Minds, a company that uses online cognitive neuroscience people analytics tools in the sectors of Corporate, Driving, Sport, Education, Aviation and Healthcare.

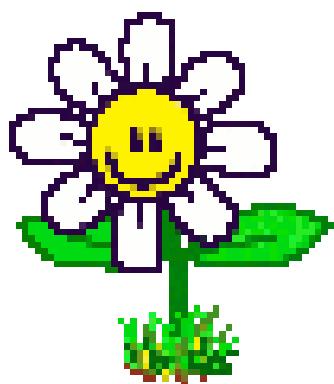

Hope Glory" on it, creating a minor licensing issue just as it was getting major airtime on the radio.

In the 2013 Queens Birthday Honours List, Mike Brady was made a member of the Order of Australia (AM) "For significant service to the community, and to music as a composer and performer". He is a board member on the Prostate Cancer Foundation Australia Victorian Board and has performed at many Men's health events. He has been a board director of Variety Victoria and is a Life Member of the organisation. He is also a patron of the Bali Children Foundation and the Australian Huntington's Disease Association (Vic), and is involved with the Bluearth Foundation, Melbourne Legacy and the Yooralla Society. He is also an Australia Day ambassador. Brady lives in Melbourne, Australia. He has four children.
